Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 28 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain early, late today, but turning dry, bright for time.

Today:
Cloudy start with occasional patchy rain. Turning dry and increasingly bright from south from mid-morning, bringing a settled early afternoon, however cloud thickening from the southwest to bring periods of occasionally heavy rain to most by early evening. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Overcast with periods of rain, with heavier outbreaks through the evening. Winds generally light and variable in direction, perhaps freshening across northern coasts overnight. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Friday:
Quite a cloudy day with patchy light rain through the morning. Slowly and erratically the rain will clear southwards during the afternoon, perhaps allowing some late brightness to develop. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Mainly dry with some brighter spells. However a chance of periods of rain, snow spreading from southwest at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.